

“ET” comes to the IMF (That is “Educational Tasters”)

The Institute of Materials Finishing is renowned for its educational courses. In order to inform people who may or may not know about us and would like to learn a little more about Metal Finishing then this would be the place.

By clicking on the link: www.materials-finishing.org/linkedin will give you access to the website and all the information of what we are hoping to achieve.

Please click on the Like/Dislike button as this will allow us to establish that we are providing the correct information and any improvements that we need to make.